Membership Updates

Alestine Andre resigned from the NWT Species at Risk Committee effective June 1, 2022. Alestine was a member appointed by the Minister of ENR, on the advice of the Conference of Management Authorities. GNWT was seeking suggestions/nominations to fill this membership as an Indigenous and Community knowledge holder or practitioner. Names and biographies were requested to the Secretariat by June 24, 2022.

James Firth communicated his resignation on September 21, 2022. At that time, GRRB was going to bring the item forward to their board for action on filling the vacancy.

Update from GNWT: The GNWT previously asked CMA to put names forward. We received a nomination for Sam Bullock and we are in the process of putting that nomination up the line so that hopefully we can appoint Sam.

Update from GRRB: James Firth gave his resignation last week. GRRB has not discussed the vacancy yet, but it is earmarked for our teleconference in October.

Status Report Updates

There are currently four status reports in progress.

federal recovery strategy for Peary caribou once it was completed. Four extensions to the completion date for the NWT recovery strategy were granted (2015, 2017, 2019 and 2021). The current completion deadline is September 30, 2024.

The final national recovery strategy should be posted this month (September) on the federal Public Registry, in English, Inuktitut and French.

ECCC next steps:

- Our team is now preparing for the protection phase of the sea ice critical habitat;
- WMAC-NWT (Hannah), GNWT-ENR (Tracy) and ECCC (Isabelle + Cheryl Johnson) will be doing a community tour in Ulukhaktok, Sachs Harbour, Paulatuk and Tuktoyaktuk this fall to conduct workshops with knowledge holders on habitat use. This is work under the NSERC grant to inform the identification of terrestrial critical habitat.

Questions can be directed to Isabelle Duclos (Isabelle.Duclos@ec.gc.ca)

Review and approve CMA workplan, approach and draft outline for the adoption of the Federal Recovery Strategy

Joslyn provided an overview of the workplan, approach and outline. The CMA discussed the drafts of the proposed workplan, approach and outline to adopt the federal recovery strategy for Peary caribou.

- GNWT: The GNWT does not have an issue with the workplan or approach. However, our intention is to exclude some of the federal recovery strategy from adoption – specifically the critical habitat portion. We need to ensure the approach and outline reflect the decision to omit the critical habitat content. Once the final version of the federal recovery strategy is released, we will be able to review it with an eye on what we need to add to meet NWT requirements for a recovery strategy (which may differ from northern mountain caribou).
- WMAC-NWT: This was not discussed at the last meeting, but WMAC-NWT is generally comfortable with the proposed timeline and broad approach. Specific details will be adjusted once the federal recovery strategy is available.

Dolphin and Union Caribou Progress Report and Review

The progress report and review for Dolphin and Union caribou is due December 2023. The Dolphin and Union Management plan was prepared jointly by the Government of Nunavut and the Government of the Northwest Territories, in cooperation with the Government of Canada and co-management partners. Co-management partners involved in this process include: the Nunavut Wildlife Management Board, Kitikmeot Regional Wildlife Board, Nunavut Tunngavik Inc., Kitikmeot Inuit Association, Kugluktuk Hunters and Trappers Organization (HTO), Ekaluktutiak HTO, Omingmaktok HTO, Burnside HTO, Wildlife Management Advisory Council (NWT), Inuvialuit Game Council, Ulukhaktok Hunters and Trappers Committee (HTC), and the Paulatuk HTC.

Prior to starting work on the Dolphin and Union caribou progress report and review, the Secretariat will need direction. Some questions to consider:

- Would the Management Authorities like to consider a joint progress report and review (similar to the process for polar bear)? If so, what is the best way to facilitate this approach?
- If we do proceed with a joint progress report, who are the partners?

Action item 20220927-10: The Secretariat will schedule a meeting \(October 13 or 14, 2022\) with the Dolphin and Union caribou Management Authorities to discuss the path forward for the progress report and review.
